

The Power of the Twin Flame Heart Womb

May 18 2008

New to the Angelina Heart Newsletter?*

Be sure to read the post script at the end.

My dear, beloved spirit family;

What exciting times! All around us we see humanity waking. The energetic shifts that look cataclysmic in our individual and collective lives have been bringing to the surface each and every story the ego has ever created to keep us believing in separation and in its world of illusion. Perhaps you believe your ego is your nemesis, but viewing the situation through heart perception, you'll see the angst that grips your little mind ultimately moves you to surrender to spirit.

Did you ever have a bully in your life; one whose relentless physical, emotional, or verbal abuse, forced you to grow into your strength on some level? Were they really your enemy? Or were they one of your greatest teachers?

Every single now we have the opportunity to decide where to Source our lives. Every NOW, you can make a choice for the Real of Love. And you who've agreed to assist the shift through the Twin Flame Heart Womb have at your instant command the full creative force of the God I AM.

Transformation, Self-Realization, Awakening...can all happen in the blink of an eye. Reaching critical mass need not be a laborious and drawn out procedure. We are the ones who determine how quickly the New World manifests. As you begin to gain more confidence in your ability to create from within the Twin Flame Creation Matrix of the Heart Womb, you will extend the Love produced therein further and further without being intimidated by massive magnetic fields.

Oh, the magnificent creative power of the Twin Flame Heart Womb ... that atomic creative force field you've been learning to wield. Connecting with the full essence of your Beloved Twin Flame and loving them as God in your complementary energetic essence is the single most empowering act of self-realization. By uniting with your Twin on any level of consciousness, your unique vibratory signatures have the power to fuse your corresponding primal forces around a nucleus of pure love, from which is birthed the Twin Flame Heart Womb --- the holographic creative matrix of the Mother/Father God. You become the living template of love.

What does that mean and what potential does it imply at the time of this great shift?

1) Within the Twin Flame Creation Matrix of the Heart Womb, you may access the Ongoing Moment of Creation from the Mother/Father God; the sacred, eternal, orgasmic emanation that holographically replicates the Source. Of this union is born more and more and more of the purest, highest frequency of Love. This Source is Love; the original CAUSE. Through the vortex of the Heart Womb, Twins have direct access to the original blueprint of CAUSE without the necessity of having the energy stepped down through the angelic hierarchy.

2) The only resulting energy of the atomic union of the two primal forces of creation is LOVE. Therefore, Twin Flames, as the holographic offspring of these two forces, also have the ability to receive, magnify, and generate limitless love in the highest frequency.

3) The Twin Flame Heart Womb contains the time/space continuum, but the vortex of the womb exists outside of that continuum and acts as an interdimensional wormhole.* This wormhole not only facilitates access to the Ongoing Moment of Creation, but also allows a creation field outside of the time/space continuum. It affords Twins the ability to bridge dimensions of consciousness so they may bring their creations from the Real into this dimension to be anchored and emanated through their physical bodies and heart fields.

4) Every bit of All That Is is comprised of one thing: Love. It is the only begotten of the Mother/Father God. It is the substance of all creation, and whether it be frozen or fluid, it is still only love qualified through the conscious direction of the creator. Every particle of creation is imbued with the original blueprint of the highest vibration of Love and, therefore, has the ability to recognize and rise to this vibration. In the interaction of two energy fields imbued with the same pattern, the lower vibration will always rise or entrain itself to the higher vibration.

Light equals Love in Motion, and the container of light is the electron. Twin Flames have the ability to re-attune electrons to their original highest vibration by emanating the love created in their Twin Flame Heart Womb to any given condition, person, place or thing. This does not require any attachment to outcome. It simply holds a vibratory mirror of the immaculate concept before each electron to entrain it back to its true identity.

5) This is creation from original Cause --- As you learn to navigate through heart perception instead of the little mind, and create from within the Twin Flame Heart Womb, need is no longer an issue. When you Source your identity as both All That is God, and an individual holographic expression of that same force of creation (Twin Flames), nothing is missing: you are whole. Twin Flames are birthed in wholeness, not incompleteness and you are never separate from God or your Twin Flame.

The holographic manifestation is different than manifestation through the lens of duality consciousness, for it does not concomitantly produce the polar opposite with each creation. It creates and sustains the immaculate concept. The emanation of love issues forth from fusion of the two primal forces from the radiant heart of God, in which there is no need.

As we begin to create from this field, the wave form of our continuum will actually change to a different frequency. Belief systems (all of them) will become obsolete for we won't require the membrane of judgment. (good/bad, etc.) We will no longer require identity through the structure of tribal thinking. It changes the model of enlightenment. And self-realization is the first stage of enlightenment with resonant fields in relationship. It brings GOD to relationship.

The majority of you reading this newsletter are souls who incarnated for the purpose of assisting the great shift in this dimension. Many of you did not have to return on the Karmic wheel, but you came anyway. You came because you knew you could remember how to embrace All That is God evolving on this planet in your glorious Twin Flame Heart Womb; to bathe all of it in your glorious Twin Flame Love from the Original Cause to re-attune this world to its true identity of Love. Within your precious Heart Womb you can also hold this world within the Violet Consuming Flame of Transmutation to quickly dissolve the discordant energy forms that have been mis-created throughout eons of time. The Hierarchy of Light are assisting from their realms by magnifying our every effort to the fullest extent possible.

This is the most profound and rapid way to facilitate a harmonious quantum leap in consciousness for our beloved planet and every individualized aspect of the God I AM who has been evolving here. It affects the full time/space continuum – past, present, future, and the eternal Now – and fashions a new pathway of evolvement of grace and ease instead of trauma and drama.

Wow! We indeed exist in exciting times, for what we are doing has never been done before. So, dear ones, this NOW is your opportunity to return this world to love. It's not that you are somehow different from your siblings, nor are you special. Those are ego's definitions of separation. You are simply God remembering itself in individualized form and you happen to be on the leading edge of this work. And because you remember, you have the ability to act on it.

Try an experiment to gain more confidence. Let's join our Twin Flame Heart Wombs together to enfold those in China and Burma whose lives were forever altered during this week's earth changes. Create the Heart Womb with your Beloved * and then visualize all who are doing the same throughout the planet joining our Heart Wombs together. See the Love as it begins to connect heart to heart in a clockwise fashion. Now draw these situations and all involved into our joined Heart Womb and bathe them in the ocean of golden-white love we created there. Do not project an outcome. Just let the light do its work. Then gently return the situation to Earth through your own physical field and continue to hold what is Real while you emanate the frequency of Divine Love with each and every breath and heartbeat. Yours is the breath and heartbeat of God. See the energy as it pulses around and through the earth and those situations again and again and again. Do not engage in the drama. Hold only what is Real! The love you create is powerful beyond measure.

With the fullness of the Twin Flame Heart I AM, I surround you with my deepest love and gratitude for being here NOW and making a difference. You are held eternally in the infinite ocean of limitless love.

Only Love is Real!

Part II: Twin Flames: Embodying the Resonance

Though you don't have to know how your cell phone works in order to use it, it is beneficial to know the basics so you can use it to its full potential – right? In Part II of this series, we'll guide you easily through the basic physics of the God hologram. Since Twin Flames are the holographic replication of God, it's time to understand what the ramifications, responsibilities and privileges of union are. This is the Twin Flame dispensation, and it's time to embody the resonance of your true identity. Part III: Twin Flames & Sacred Sexuality

Tonight we'll explore the details of the Twin Flame Creation Matrix and Sacred Sexuality. Viewed through the lens of ego, most people fear the creation of love in higher fields of vibration will be passionless. Passion is a term referring to the movement of energy in the physical body that, as humans, is translated in the feeling body. If you have experienced a physical orgasm, you understand the energetic exchange that leads to a heightened vibration, that leads to an explosion of energy that then leads to a profound peace. Imagine the greatest passion you've ever experienced and multiply it a thousand fold. Imagine yourself so overflowing with an orgasmic explosion of love that you simply cannot contain it and it must flow out of you to bless everything that your attention rests upon every NOW moment. Imagine every interaction with All That Is God as this type of orgasmic expression of love and peace that bathes everything in its true identity. Since all energy moves in a circle, gathering more of its kind, then returns to the creator magnified...Imagine what that would FEEL like. Want to give it a go? Join us as we explore:

- The Creation of Love & Matter - is it possible?
- Connecting to the Ongoing Moment of Creation
- Atomic Holographic Replication of Love: The Immaculate Concept
- Does Lovemaking Require a Physical Partner?
- Passion & The Twin Flame Double Helix
- Creating within the Twin Flame Heart Womb
- Experiential Exercise
